UNDERSTANDING VERIZON'S RESIDENTIAL BILLS

Verizon's bills may cover one or more of the following services: Basic, Optional Calling Features, Regional Toll, Long Distance, International, Internet, and Wireless. The District of Columbia Public Service Commission (DCPSC) sets the Basic Service and Optional Calling Features rates. The other services are under the jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and hence the DCPSC cannot be responsible for any changes in the rates as shown below. Contact should be made directly with Verizon and any other service providers.

Residential customers can choose different providers for any of these services. In fact, Verizon's bills may include regional toll and long distance services offered by other providers. If any other service is shown on Verizon's bill, it is being provided by Verizon. Verizon's services can be purchased a la carte (unbundled) or bundled as packages. The following is a summary list of your Verizon choices.

Verizon's Unbundled Services

Basic Service

Economy I Service – Calls within the local calling area¹ cost $6.00 per line per month plus 6 cents for each call.

Economy II Service – Unlimited calling within the local calling area costs $3.00 per month for those under 65 years old, and $1.00 per month for seniors, aged 65 and older. Participants must meet certain conditions and income guidelines to qualify for the discounted calling rates.

D.C. Only Service – Unlimited calls within Washington, D.C. for $8.59 per line per month. Calls outside of D.C. but within the D.C. metropolitan area cost 6 cents per call.

Flat Rate Service – Unlimited calls within the local calling area for $13.10 per line per month.

Message Rate Service – Covers 75 calls within the local calling area for $7.29 per line per month. Additional calls cost 6 cents per call.

Optional Local Calling Features/Services – Verizon offers over 40 optional local calling features, such as Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Caller ID, etc. Contact Verizon for a list of features and prices.

Regional Toll Service - You may have a different regional toll provider than your long distance provider. Regional toll calls are calls that reach beyond your local calling area, but within the region boundaries called LATA. Thus, they fall between local and long distance. The cost of Verizon's regional toll calls varies by day and time as follows:

Day Rate: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., the rate is 30 cents per minute.

Evening Rate: Monday through Friday, 5 p.m. – 11 p.m., the rate is 25 cents per minute.

Weekend Rate: Sunday and Saturday, 8 a.m. – 11 p.m., the rate is 15 cents per minute.

Night Rate: All days, 11 p.m. – 8 a.m., the rate is 15 cents per minute. Evening rates are in effect 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. on certain holidays (New Year's [Jan. 1], Independence Day [July 4], Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas Day [Dec. 25]).

¹ The local calling area contains the District of Columbia as well as Fairfax and Arlington counties and Alexandria in Virginia and most of Montgomery and Prince Georges counties in Maryland.

Special Offer: Verizon Five Cents Plan: 5 cents per minute – 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Special offer only for customers who also choose a qualifying Verizon Local Package and select Verizon as their regional toll provider.

Long Distance Service - Verizon bills may contain long distance charges from a different long distance provider, and that provider may charge its customers a fee for the combined billing. If Verizon is chosen as the long distance provider, Verizon currently offers the following long distance service plans:

Verizon Five Cents – Long distance calls cost 5 cents per minute, with no minimum monthly usage for a monthly fee of $4.95.

e-Values – If you sign up on line, calls cost 5 cents per minute on weekends and 10 cents per minute on weekdays for a monthly fee of $1.50.

Talk Time 30 – Covers 30 minutes of domestic, direct-dialed calls within the U.S. and its territories for $3.00 per month. Each additional minute costs 10 cents.

International Calling Service

International Choice Plan with City Rates – For $4.00 per month, you can call to over 250 countries and 55 international cities at Verizon's best rates on your direct-dialed calls.

International Flat Rate – For 95 cents per month, you can get discounted rates on all international calls.

International Choice Plan Unlimited Country – For $34.95 - $44.95 per month, you can choose unlimited calling to a select country and get the added benefit of discounted per minute rates to over 250 more countries.

High Speed Internet Access

DSL Internet Service – Unlimited DSL Internet Access for $14.95 with 1-year commitment or $37.95 month-to-month.

TYPES OF TAXES, SURCHARGES AND OTHER FEES ON VERIZON'S RESIDENTIAL BILLS

Federally Imposed

Federal Subscriber Line Charge (FSLC): The FSLC is authorized by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to compensate the local telephone companies for part of the cost of the installation and maintenance of the telephone wire, poles and other facilities that are used in providing long distance service that link residences to the telephone network. Effective July 1, 2005, the monthly rate for each line is $3.85. It is calculated based on 25% of the costs of the interstate portion of the line. Economy II service customers do not pay the FSLC.

Federal Universal Service Fund Surcharge (FUSF): The Federal Universal Service Fund is a federal government program that helps bring affordable basic phone service to all Americans. The program also assists schools, libraries and rural health care providers in obtaining phone service. Some long distance companies add a USF charge onto their bills to cover their support requirements for this program. Effective July 1, 2005, the Federal Universal Service Fund surcharge in the District is 40 cents per line per month. Economy II service customers do not pay this surcharge.

Federal Excise Tax: The Federal Excise Tax is a 3% tax that is mandated by the federal government. It is levied on telecommunications services, including, local, long distance and wireless bills. It is not levied on service connection charges, D.C. local sales taxes, and non-regulated services.

Federal Telecommunications Relay Service (TRS) Surcharge: This surcharge funds the telecommunications relay center, which transmits and translates calls for hearing and speech-impaired persons. Currently, the TRS surcharge of 25 cents per line per month is included in basic services rates so it is not shown separately on customers' bills.

D.C. Government - Imposed

E911 and 311 Surcharge: This fee (911) was originally embedded in the base rate charged by Verizon, Washington, DC Inc., for local exchange service. However, the Council of the District of Columbia by D.C. Act 13-352 (Emergency and Non-Emergency Telephone Calling Systems Fund Act of 2000) required the Commission to direct Verizon to remove the 911 system costs from the Base rate and implement the E911 and 311 user fee established by the Act. The E911 is the enhanced service for District citizens to summon help in emergencies. The 311 number is used to reduce emergency telephone call congestion by diverting non-emergency calls from the emergency telephone lines. The current E911 surcharge is 76 cents per line per month.

Public Rights-of-Way Fee: The Public Rights-of-Way Fee is mandated by the Council of the District of Columbia. The Council provided that Verizon should recover from its customers all costs it incurs to lease conduit and space for its underground facilities and poles that are on public space. Effective July 1, 2005, the fee is $1.22 per line per month.

Gross Receipts Tax (GRT): Gross Receipt Tax (GRT) is a tax imposed by the District of Columbia Government on locally tariffed service revenues from the sale of telecommunications services by all local telephone companies operating in the District. Directory Assistance is exempt from the GRT surcharge. All telephone companies are required to collect this tax from customers and turn the money over to the city treasury. Effective January 1, 2005, the Gross Receipt Tax surcharge is 10 percent for residential customers.

D.C. Tax – A 5.75% sales tax which is applied to services that are not regulated by the District of Columbia Public Service Commission. Examples are Voice Mail and Inside Wire Maintenance Plans.
