

OVERVIEW OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

The Public Service Commission of the District of Columbia was established by the US Congress in 1913 as an independent District Government agency to regulate the electric, natural gas and telephone companies serving the District.

CHAIRMAN

First appointed by Mayor Adrian Fenty, Betty Ann Kane began her term as a Commissioner in March 2007, and she was appointed the Chairman of the PSC in March 2009. Mayor Fenty reappointed her in 2011. Chairman Kane has over 30 years of service to the District Government in elected and appointed positions such as elected member of the DC Board of Education in the mid 1973 and three terms on the DC Council from 1978 to 1990. Her DC Council service included chairing the Public Services and Cable Television Committee, with legislative, budgetary and oversight responsibility for the PSC, Office of the Peoples Counsel, and Office of Cable Television.

Chairman Kane has also been a government relations advisor. She wrote a telecommunications and cable television guidebook for the National League of Cities. Chairman Kane also served as a Trustee and Executive Director of the DC Retirement Board, and led the transformation of the Board from an investment agency managing $3.2 billion in pension funds to a full-service retirement and investment agency.

Chairman Betty Ann Kane currently serves as chairman of the Telecommunications Committee of the Mid-Atlantic Conference of Regulatory Commissioners, is a member of the Telecommunications Committee of NARUC and has been appointed by the FCC to the Joint Conference on Advanced Telecommunication Service and the North American Numbering Council. Chairman Kane is a graduate of Middlebury College and has a Masters Degree in English from Yale University. She is a 40-year resident of the District of Columbia. She and her husband, attorney Noel W. Kane, have two grown children.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION COMMISSIONER

Joanne Doddy Fort was nominated by Mayor Gray and confirmed as Commissioner by the Council effective October 3, 2012 for a term ending June 30, 2016.

Joanne Doddy Fort Commissioner

Joanne Doddy Fort is an experienced attorney who has practiced law in the District of Columbia for more than three decades and has served as a corporate officer in the private sector. Commissioner Fort has an extensive background in the fields of utility regulation, administrative law and ethics. Before joining the PSC, Commissioner Fort served as Vice President and General Counsel of Urban Service Systems Corporation, a waste management and transportation company. Prior to joining the company, she was a partner in three local law firms where, among other matters, she litigated cases before the PSC -- first on behalf of the Staff of the PSC and later on behalf of the Office of the People's Counsel. The D.C. Court of Appeals appointed Commissioner Fort to the Board on Professional Responsibility, the Commission on Admissions and the Access to Justice Commission. Mayor Barry appointed her to a term on the Real Estate Commission for the District of Columbia.

Raised in the District of Columbia, Commissioner Fort has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science from Bryn Mawr College and a Juris Doctor degree from the University of Pennsylvania Law School. She has taught and lectured on professional responsibility at Howard University Law School and the College of Law at American University. Commissioner Fort has served on a variety of nonprofit boards. She is a member of the District of Columbia Bar.
